@wataboutery

I don't owe any farmers anything.

They didn't give me anything free

They make me pay their full costs plus middlemen margins

They are stupid enough NOT to get out of middlemen clutches

They believe/d they were my Annadatas

OTOH

I pay my taxes honestly

I pay my GST for goods I buy

I used to pay inflated and higher-than-GST taxes for all things pre-GST

I don't have room to make black money

Hell

I don't even have a way to do cash transactions

I don't get free water

I don't get free electricity

I don't get free protestors

I don't get free fertilizers

I don't get loan waivers

I don't get loan write-offs

I don't get their-kind-of subsidies

I don't owe farmers anything

I go on to say that they owe me everything

I die as a consumer, they die rotting amidst their produce

I don't have any sympathy for farmers, in addition to what I have for any sincere honest worker in the economy, in fact, much lesser

I don't like farmer-politics

I can't help it if farmers were stupid

I can't help it if farmers won't understand basic market economics

I can't help farmers if they believe they deserve my sympathy, empathy and money

I need relief from these entitled rent seeking parasites
