WION is the Indian version of Al Jazeera.

It has followed the same trajectory:

Started off as an interesting channel that covered world events from an Indian perspective, then morphed into a pro-Palestine, pro-Rohingya, left-liberal apologia medium.

Click below to witness WION's nonstop one-sided coverage of the Rohingya issue.

Notice how they're invariably portrayed as victims & never as aggressors - straight out of the western left-liberal playbook.
