Once Vasishta Maharshi was doing Shiva pooja and Indra sent Kamadenu (divine cow) for abhishekam for Paramashiva. Kamadenu delayed to pour milk for pooja and Vasishta mini cursed Kamadenu to become an ordinary cow loosing all its powers.

As a relief from curse Maharshi suggested the cow to go to this place and pray Paramashiva under the Vanni tree to recover its divinity. Kamadenu came here poured the milk and prayed to Mahadeva and thus got its divinity back.
Agastya Muni is believed have received medicinal values about various herbs here from Mahadeva. Thus, the Marundeeswarar temple has been a place of worship for people with various diseases, who gets cured.
