Tamil Nadu: A bus conductor in Coimbatore distributes saplings for free of cost to passengers travelling in his bus

"I have been doing this for 34 years. I spend 40% of my salary to take care of these plants, they are my family," said Marimuthu Yoganathan

Seeing my dedication, a friend from US donated 3 acres of land where I work daily after duty. I give free saplings to passengers on my bus. I also visit schools every Monday to create awareness among students about planting trees: bus conductor
