#Thread on Toolkit for Hindus

1. Connect yourself to a Hindu cause irrespective of the state, language, caste or creed. Remember that day isn't far when we might become minority without minority status.

2. Since we are all called Sanghis, no harm visiting the nearest RSS shakha once.

3. Countering Radic@l Isl@m is a must. They are spreading like termites.

Please visit my pinned thread on J!hadists. Be alert and cautious.

Check @jihadwatchRS and his videos for detailed information.

4. Reading about our past scriptures, vedas and countering false propaganda with proper logic and evidence.

Some of us have already started digging real history, vedas, Gita, etc. Please read the complete thread and then RT.
Remember FOLLOWERS IS NOT THE MAIN GOAL.

5. Celebrating all Hindu festivals openly and without any guilt and following the rituals. Wearing a thread around the wrist, using rudraksh malas, wearing bindis, should be made as a trend.

I wear a small ganesha pendant around my neck. Show your identity openly.

6. Do visit your favourite temples of Kuldevi and Kuldevta. When on our outdoor trips, trend a pic with a temple. Our country is filled with beautiful and serene temples. Small or big doesn't matter.

7. Use your vote wisely.

We need to understand the difference between martyrs and terrorists. Let's not fall into the trap of false media and news. Dig the matter till you find truth.

Remember, there's no free lunch in life. No freebies during elections.

8. Confront anti-nationals. Whether it's Bollywood personalities, media, sports people, fashion designers, etc, does not matter.

We are the ones who have made them and hence breaking their reputation is in our hands.

TOOLKIT FOR HINDUS

1. Connect yourself with a Hindu cause. Don't restrict yourself to your language/state causes. Remember, when anti-national/anti-Hindu forces unite, they will attack/harm you for your 'Hindu' tag and not your ethnicity or the language you speak. Hindus uniting is the worst nightmare of Islamists, that's why caste/language based incitement has spiked in different parts of the country in recent times. A Hindu being persecuted in West Bengal, Jammu, Bangladesh, West UP, Pakistan or Kerala should be a concern for Hindus everywhere – remember "if you don't speak up today, one day they will come for you when there is no one left to speak",

2. Start going to a local RSS Shakha once in a while. Meet your local Swayamsevak and create a network of good people who help you in need along with giving your mind some much needed stimulation. I do not see a single downside of going to a shakha.

3. Emmanuel Macron's speech from October makes much more sense now. "We need to counter radical islam in our country asap. Islam is a religion that is in crisis all over the world today, we are not just seeing this in our country". A lot of Indians feel the same way today.

4. Read about your past and your scriptures. Counter all false propaganda vociferously but intelligently. Be open to debates and discussions. Understand the basics of Sanatan Dharma.

5. Celebrate festivals with fervor, without worrying about being labeled 'Hindu'. Express your Hindu identity with pride. Whether it is wearing Bharatiya attire, or putting teeka, bindi, bangles and other cultural symbols. You are doing this to respect your Dharma. Don't go on the defensive, just be assertive.

6. Don't change who you are. Be respectful. Be humane. Don't judge a person based on his religion or religious practices. In short, be a good Hindu. But know when you need to stand up for yourself! Learn and read about Shivaji, Maharana Pratap, Rana Hamir and your national heroes.

7. Use your vote wisely. Understand the difference between people who call terrorists martyrs and people who visit slain soldiers and policemen. And most importantly, do not vote for freebies. Delhi is suffering, it won't be long before you suffer too.

All Hindus should be encouraged to get involved in all levels of politics and elect those candidates who would support in bringing the above changes. A community with a 1 billion people is a huge vote bank. It is not ethical for idealistic people like us, but well, when our existence itself is threatened, we do not have much options left.

8. Confront movies, people, media, TVs, channels, bloggers, artists, politicians, textbooks, schools, advertisements, and those in social media who are demonizing Hindu Dharma. Protest against them.

We must strive to bring into the fold rest of the Hindu population who are still ignorant of the looming threats and are living under the influence of Bollywood anaesthesia.
