

Twitter Thread by SK

SK

@sk_diary1

Krishna & Paarijaata apaharana #sculpture #story #Thread

Parijata tree was in Indraloka which was one of gifts he received from churning of Ocean to obtain Amrit.

This beautiful #sculpture depicts Indra Dev chasing Shri Krishna for stealing parijatha tree branch from Indralok

■- sculpture on outer walls of Hoysaleswara temple, Halebeedu, Karnataka

Krishna has 4hands with Shankha, Chakra, Mace & Lotus holding Satyabhama tightly, mounted on Garuda. Garuda has a beautifully carved Parijata tree trunk in left hand& a weapon in his right hand, attacking Indra.

Other side is Indra,riding on Airavata.Indra can be seen attacking Krishna with his Vajrayutham.Airavata is charging towards Garuda.Wife of Indra can be seen in pillion seat.Just look at the Detailing of Garuda & Airavat sculptures.

So what led Krishna to steal parijatha tree■

Narada Rishi once returning from Indralok collected few Parijata flowers&reached Dwaraka.There he met Bhagwan Krishna&gave the heavenly flowers to him.Narada explained the greatness of Parijata flowers & also said that these flowers must be given to the most loved ones.

Despite knowing Satyabhama's anger,Krishna gave it to Rukmani Devi.Narada Rishi then went to palace of Satyabhama. He narrated whole incident that had happened.Satyabhama turned furious on hearing that Krishna gave Parijata to Rukmini.Then Satyabhama shows her anger to Krishna.

To console Satyabhama, Krishna promises her that he will bring the Parijatha tree here. She was very happy & decided to accompany Krishna to Indraloka. They asked for the Parijatha tree. Arrogant Indra refused to give <https://t.co/lZLoxRrNht> Krishna plucked a branch from Parijatha tree.

Krishna & Satyabhama got on Garuda's back & started from there. Indra cursed that Parijatha tree would never bear fruits, it will only bear flowers. Indra along with Sachi Devi chased Krishna & was ready to fight with him. They fought but Indra was defeated. Indra realised his mistake.

Krishna brought Parijatha branch & planted it in garden of Satyabhama as per her wishes.

Satyabhama went to Rukmini & boasted about Parijatha tree & how Krishna had fought with Indra. Tried to tell that Krishna loves her so dearly that he offered her Parijatha tree rather himself.

Though Parijatha tree was in Satyabhama's garden, Krishna planted in such a way that its flowers fall in Rukmini's garden. This flower is so pure. This is the only flower even though gathered from the ground & can be offered to Bhagwan.

Two different trees are considered as Parijata - one is Coral Jasmine (in tamil known as Pavala Malli) & another is Baobab Tree in Uttar Pradesh

■- all photos/pics in thread - credit to resp.owners

Source text - based on story of Krishna Parijata apaharan from various blogs/news articles about dance performances on this theme

#JaiShreeKrishna

Thanks for reading■