If you're thinking of giving up on trading...

read this first ■

(my story)

During the beginning of my trading journey, there were many times where I thought of giving up.

The first year I really was committed.

Then towards the second year, I really started thinking, "Is this really for me?"

I knew I had a strong passion for trading.

It's what kept me in the game for so long.

But after 2 years of losses, I thought maybe I was meant for another business.

But there was always that "What if" thought running through my head.

What if I'm right there?

What if tomorrow starts the day where I become consistently profitable?

That thought never left...

It wasn't until I found Supply and Demand Trading.

It changed the game for me.

It simply just made sense.

I cut out all the useless indicators I was using and started studying.

Slowly but surely, it started working

I was making money! Finally! Then... crap.

I started losing and losing... and losing

I thought it was over. What am I gonna do now? I put so much time, money, and effort into this only to see nothing in return.

So at this point, I took a break. I tried some other things.

New businesses, side hustles, etc.

Yet for some reason, the first thing I would do every morning is check the stocks.

Stocks, stocks, stocks. It consumed me.

I couldn't give up. There was no way. I would never forgive myself.

So I put myself into place. I cut out the bs. No more over trading, no more revenge trading, none of that.

I knew supply and demand worked. I just needed to refine my strategy a little bit.

I started using my knowledge from previous years and came up with a setup that I backtested.

Then, I traded it.

and...■

It worked! I was finally making consistent money. I finally put my foot down, cut out all the nonsense, and focused on solely trading my strategy.

After a few weeks of consistent profits, I had full trust in my system.

I was a profitable trader!

A few years after that point, I was able to go full time with trading and it was the best decision I've ever made.

I've been able to travel the world, be my own boss, and make more money than I had ever imagined.

If you're an unsuccessful trader at this point.. I ask you to please not give up.

IT IS WORTH IT

Just when you think you've hit rock bottom, the only way is up■

This is the journey. It will be tough. Mentally and Emotionally.

But through it all, the reward is worth it in the end.

Don't give up. You got this!
