For those who blame @AmitShah and @narendramodi for every stone pelted at Hindus.

~ This is a global phenomenon

~ You should know something about this communist warfare to study GOI's response or actions

Read the following communist techniques and think if you see a pattern.

Aim of communists - world conquest.

Weapon - propaganda and mobilisation (read my pinned thread for mobilisation part)

How does it work?

In liberal democracies, ethnic races, nationalists, and good leaders are targets.

US Army exposed below techniques several decades ago.

~ Every dissatisfaction must grow into a resentment (hence the intolerance brigade, agrarian crisis, migrant crisis, rapistan, lynchistan, dara hua musalman, hijab ban, Mullamodi).

~ Every such resentment must become an argument (conveniently hosted by yours truly channels).

~ Every argument must grow into a fight (protests, stone pelting)

For communism, never a compromise. NEVER.

Never a settlement for any dispute. Only conflict.

Remember, GOI was willing to make amendments to Farmers Law, but no compromise from the protestors).

~ Every fight must go into a riot (pistols, swords in protests and stone pelting mobs)

~ Every riot must expand into a war (this didn't happen in India thanks to Modi-Shah)

~ Every war must end in devastation - rivers of blood, protracted violence, deaths, and complete unrest.

~ From ruin, communism finds their chance. How?

In poverty, unemployment, disillusion, there is despair. In despair people may listen to anyone for change alternatives.

~ Once they takeover, they create iron curtains and feed utopian visions to people (USSR).

~ Free people cannot see what's going on in there. No need to sell, only tell (China, N Korea, USSR).

~ For communists, today's friend is tomorrow's enemy. Today's enemy is tomorrow's friend (Sonia Gandhi/Yechuri in Delhi vs Ramesh Chennithala/Pinarayi Vijayan in Kerala).

~ Today's hero is tomorrow's traitor (All Pak PMs)

~ Communists are good at propaganda in a big noisy way, and in a quiet insidious way too. They do both in our country.

Former through Urban Naxals and foolish ideologists, latter through all terror cells, religions, and media.

~ Communists are meticulous in showing in front of you, a proximate cause - an immediate Shathru.

In the hijab case they are the students, assassinations and other incidents (stone pelting, anti-CAA protests) Muslims.

In Anti-Farmer protests - farmers and Sikhs.

If you don't believe Communist hand in all these events, then my question to you is, how come there is no protest in non-BJP states?

Take Hijab row. No agitation in Kerala.

No agitation in Punjab on Farmer Laws.

Same patterns across sections of Shathru presented to you.

Why?

1. So that you start believing that Muslims are enemies, and demand evacuating/fighting them (wait for my thread on what's happening within Indian Muslims).

2. You start believing that Sikhs are bad, protestors need to be subdued with force.

3. You start abusing your stable patriotic government. You call them weak.

4. You don't pay ANY attention to

- the orchestrators
- the pattern behind all this madness
- the common factor
- the methodology
- the real Shathru.

5. Inadvertently, you start praising enemies of the state or the passive ones.

If you have done any of the above, then you are halfway in the bag

Next steps for you:

- ~ Start believing your govt is weak, they have no guts to operate the way you fantasise about them
- ~ Abuse them constantly
- ~ Wish for a stronger leader believing he will be your saviour.
- ~ This is what they need to present to you an alternative. A macho figure who will do what you need

But they will NOT succeed, as most of you are honest Dharmics who want your leaders to do well

This is the beauty of India, an unfinished business for over 1400 years.

Before thinking what you can do to avoid getting into the Communist bag,

Don't think even for a second that only if you support them politically you become a communist.

On the contrary, all they want is resentment. Among all classes and sections of the society.

Anyone showing resentment is their tool. It does not matter if you are Modi supporter or hater.

You should be disappointed, disillusioned, and in despair.

They will blow it the way they want.

Last part - what can you do?

1. First of all, understand difference between feeling resentful vs critical thinking and rational judgement

2. Take a step back, and see the pattern emerging, not only in India, but every other part of the country.

3. Think about the real Shathru - who is playing this game. As I have said a number of times in the past, you lose a war even before it starts if you don't know who your real Shathru is.

4. Study their patterns and try to decipher what they really want. In the case of protests so far, they were not fighting for anything, but then what did they want?

Most protestors don't even know what to expect next. All protests are infiltrated by trained rioters. See the faces of the stone pelters caught in Delhi.

They look fully trained in the process and do not look like they operate on their own.

They are in every country, city, town, and village.

Ready to mobilise at one gesture from their leaders.

Jallikattu, Sterlite, Bangalore Riots, Anti-CAA, Anti-Farmers - you see the pattern of how violent people takeover.

What do they want?

ESCALATION.

~ They want the govt to use force on them to expand riot to war.

~ They are fully prepared for that. Weapons will be within reach and will be used the moment Police use force on them.

Those who think how Yogi and Mama are able to do this while Modi and Shah cannot,

State govts are not targets. Central Govt is.

Each state:

UP has used L&O to proactively identify and neutralise known criminals.

MP has not used force on pelters, but used a punishment tactic, which worked.

Delhi mobilisations will continue with people in and out of Delhi, new and old faces, making it difficult to neutralise.

I warn that incidents like these will only intensify. It's impractical to expect MHO to stop/avoid EVERY incident.

However, you should see how escalation is arrested in each case significantly.

Don't fan sensation by sharing your resentment, but watch and count signs.

Try to study govt's action around each incident.

As I have written in my pinned thread, force, and resentment are the biggest feed of Communism.

Stable govt, civil liberties (to protest), and people who have faith in government are their enemies.

This does not stop you from criticising the govt. But see what was constitutionally possible which they failed to do.

Policies, procedures, approaches. Be specific about your criticism and provide suggestions that Doval, Shah, and our agencies may have not thought of.

Most important part. I think Modi-Shah are allowing BJP states to start using L&O appropriately to root out mobilisation in those states.

I see a pattern which is good.
