#luna played all the #LUNAtics . The $BTC meant to save $UST got pocketed. See my previous thread for a general idea

It appears #lunacoin holders still do not believe they got played. I will go in more detail on where the $BTC reserve went.

Continued.

(2/N)

Begin with 42,530 $BTC that was transferred out of the LFG wallet on May 9th

It got split into 2wallets: 12,350 went to LFT wallet and 30,000 BTC went to OkEX exchange

Bitcoin explorer, bc1qlyfrxkwp2xg39cd6usx6aw45u5rlcgl3sygu2w in block: 735653 (<https://t.co/VrqWZcT2pc>)

(3/N)

Sending $BTC to OkEx was never explained by LFG. Why did LFG send $BTC to OkEx? OkEx shut down all operations in South Korea on April 7th, 2021. So why did $BTC get transferred from a South Korean company to a now defunct crypto platform??

(4/N)

Now let's talk about the 28,250 $BTC that was transferred out. This is the juice bit. Search for Block 735722 and find the cold-chain wallet with control+f: "3M219KR5vEneNb47ewrPfWyb5jQ2DjxRP6"

Bitcoin explorer, block: 735722 (<https://t.co/VrqWZcT2pc>)

(5/N)

All of a sudden, 28,250 $BTC became 41,229 $BTC. Where is the extra 19,006 BTC from? Could it be from OKeX, the now defunct exchange in South Korea??

(6/N)

So the total $BTC in this one cold wallet on Binance is around 91k $BTC: 50k were from an OkEx exchange BTC address, and 41k were from the Luna Foundation Guardian wallet

Now I want you to ask yourself a very important question:

(7/END)

If this is an OTC trade, as #lunacoin team want you to believe, why was a defunct centralized crypto trading platform involved? How does OkEx play any role in an OTC trade, besides of course, to help hide trails?

THIS WILL BE A NETFLIX SPECIAL SOON!
