Did you know?

The most Powerful Ancient Weapon Brhamashtra, which gets its name from Prabhu Brahma, 'The Creator', had the Similar Capabilities and Properties to that of the Modern Nuclear Weapons?

Our Ancestors were too Advanced.

“BRAHMASTRA”

In hindu history their is a powerful weapon called BRAHMASTRA. This weapon posses similar properties to that of the modern nuclear weapons. The description of this weapon according to epics and puranas are the weapon where it will fall the land will become infetile and the rain will not occur at that place for 10-12 years.

Brahmaputra was used in Mahabharata/has been described in many Puranas. It is considered as a deadlier weapon compared to its counterparts. But, there are certain restrictions to use this Astra.

Only when every resource of a warrior has been completed, for the benefit of mankind can one use this Astra. The specific target will face total destruction. As per modern technology, this Astra can be, nonetheless, compared to a nuclear weapon.
