What is Closest Premium Range ?

Closest Premium is a strategy where we select options not based on strikes like (ATM , OTM 100 OTM 200 etc) but rather based on premium values like 200 , 300 etc

[3/16]

■ If select Closest Premium near 100 then this will be approx 600-700 points OTM on Friday ,300 Points Otm on Wednesday but Atm on Expiry day

■ So This is good for capturing decay on other days as we are selecting far away options and coming near Atm on Expiry

- As we move closer to Thursday the premium comes near Atm and will be ITM Approx 200 Points and cannot be traded
- Will become Directional As well if one side Stoploss hits and loss is max around 80 Points

- Before we jump to final backtest you can use total 1.7L capital for S1 and S2 and additional 1.7L for S3
- You can avoid S3 on thursdays in case You don't want to trade ITM and trade 2 lots in S2 or add a modified version of S3
- Try to understand the logic and thinking of what we are trying to do here and design your own system

■ ■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■ ■■■■ ■.■% ■■■■■■■■
