Chrome has 3.2 billion users.

But most people don't know how to unlock its full potential.

Here are 10 chrome extensions you'll wish you knew sooner (all free):

1. Summari

AI-powered assistant that instantly summarizes any long text.

<https://t.co/1WxNzFi8dE>

2. Audioread

Don't have time to read?

Listen instead!

Audioread turns any article, pdf, or email into a podcast using the latest AI narrator.

<https://t.co/y23YEmM5i1>
