Twitter Thread by Robert Young Pelton

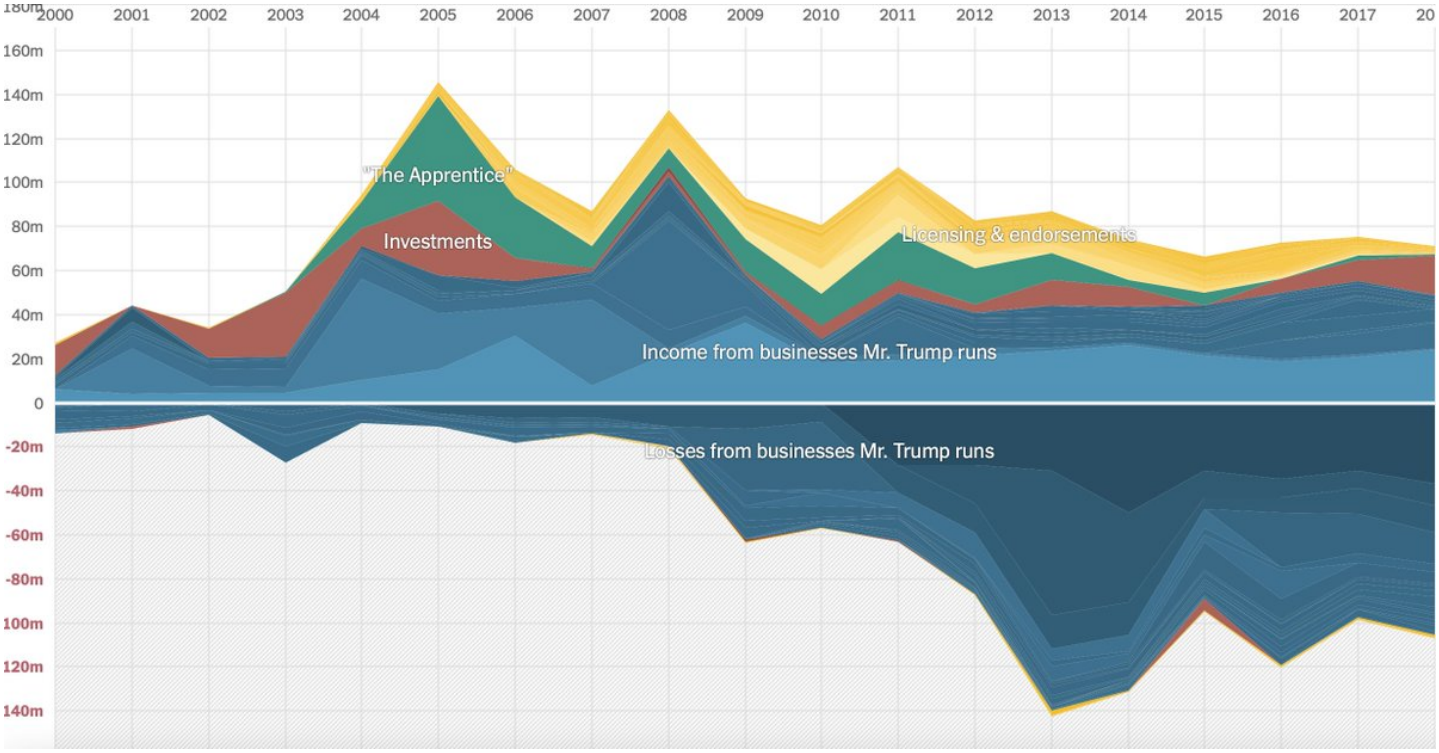

Robert Young Pelton
@RYP__

Belgian snapper Regine Mahaux took these pics in April of 2010. The same month that the brokeass TV reality host got his quickie refund from the government. He was the top Chapter 11 filer in America in the last 30 years.
https://t.co/EnSFwjsHVo

"he was far more successful playing a business mogul than being one in real life."

"a president who routinely promotes his businesses in an official capacity while they haul in hundreds of millions of dollars from mostly unknown sources is a clear case of corruption" https://t.co/NqxPNIw8zF

After he lost the election he desperately raised $250 million using a variety of scams and false campaigns. https://t.co/wprxnp6npt

Beneath all the bluster, bullshit and braggadocio, he was always on the grift. Racing to stay one step ahead of creditors and tax investigations. When the cultists wake up they will see it was all about a pitchman pretending to be President to make money. https://t.co/gPs605Zg1t

Viewed through this frantic economic lens his entire abuse of the presidential office was about using the media profile, selling access and shaking down other desperate people via bagmen like George Nader, Elliott Broidy, Rudy, Jared and so many more. https://t.co/3yRd9WR1Xv

Most of our foreign and much of domestic policy decisions were made to generate cash to minions and family members. The question is who hid his money and where? #JaredSeemsKindaSweaty https://t.co/nPBOYLuySq

In the rearview mirror, we see a man desperate for money. Eager to say anything, to do anything, to screw anyone, to make money. A man who had to hire his family and promote his brand who again finds himself financially upside down in very tight times. https://t.co/b1G16Om44t