Twitter Thread by Arthouse-Kuklite

Arthouse-Kuklite
@Miltantvibes

Children these days are expected to do more at school at an earlier age than ever. Years ago, students were learning to read and write at first grade. Nowadays, children are learning to read and write in kindergarten.

With the increase in the demands of the school curriculum, it is not surprising that the subject of "handwriting" or "penmanship" has fallen by the way.