Twitter Thread by Sharon Collins

Sharon Collins
@305local

In a recent article published in the Stern, there is now a criminal complaint filed against Michael Inacker, the then CEO of the PR firm WMP for what includes allegations of the knock out payments from the emirate of Qatar to hide a dossier for their role in financing Hezbollah

That allegedly 750,000 euros, which would have been divided between Jason and Michael.

In return, "Jason" was supposed to keep to himself the information he had researched in Qatar, that a high-ranking person in the emirate of Qatar was financially supporting Hezbollah.

https://t.co/TdaAECu35a

There is an interesting point in the article, WMP (Inacker) still had PR contracts with both Qatar and Saudi and “Jason” had some information about arms deliveries organized by people from Qatar with suppliers in Belarus, Serbia, Macedonia, and Yemen.

Inacker and “Jason” approached the Saudi advisor with this information, and if the minutes are to believe both the advisor and Inacker decided not to pass this explosive information to the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, instead wanted to profit from it.

Therefore, it appears Inacker and this Saudi advisor double-crossed the Kingdom.

NOW there is a concrete indication that the New York Public Prosecutor's office in the USA is interested in the Qatar information from “Jason”

“Jason” is represented in the USA by lawyer Rebecca Castaneda.

Stayed tuned for the next turn of events as more details will be coming down

Please see the article that was published in Germany
https://t.co/rvMxjMLnHz

It should be noted according to the articles it states that Inacker was targeted by a so-called western intel sting operation - in which a decoy caught was targeted in the act. "Jason" neither wants to confirm nor deny this