Today is my 3 year anniversary of being a nomad!

■ 20 countries

■ 5 side hustles & 1 salaried remote job

■ 2 relationships

■ fav nomad country

■ top lesson: every country's best quality is also its worst; this applies to many things in life
(thread)

The best moments weren't the 'big things' but rather the small moments:

■ Listening to the rain pour outside in Taipei

■ Chimaek and laughter with friends in Seongsu

■ Strolling under cherry blossoms at night in Nakameguro

On my 3 year nomadiversary, I'm looking at 1 yr apartment leases.

It's a whole new level of culture shock being home in ■ again. I'm ready to be in one place but also feel like a part of my identity and community is being stripped away.

I'll spend the rest of 2019 rediscovering magic.

Travel took up so much of my energy that now that I'm done, I'm not sure what else brings me a sense of wonder. I need to relearn who I am and what feels right.
