Twitter Thread by Arthouse-Kuklite

Arthouse-Kuklite
@Miltantvibes

The training years of children aged 4 to 6 are a crucial point of a child's development. This stage is when the value of a child is formed, as well as her moral and the basis of the child's character is beginning to be developed.

This stage is crucial because the child's brain compares with a sponge in which the child, who is too anxious to explore and discover the world, will absorb almost anything and everything that is exposed.