I was listening to parts of @PatrickByrne's interview about his meeting with @potus in which @SidneyPowell1 and @GenFlynn also attended.

First, I appreciate the fact that Patrick has spent $1.5 million of his own money to investigate voter fraud and fight the deep state machine

Second, the question was asked why does @Potus give people like White House General Counsel Pat Cipollone the time of day? Mr. Byrne said every time they would suggest a course of action to the President, Pat would shoot it down because Pat has been tasked by senior Bureaucrats to do whatever it takes to get @realDonaldTrump to concede the election.

I understand Mr. Byrne's concern that @Potus is surrounded by a den of liars and deep state traitors who want nothing more than to be rid of the President, but this is classic Art of War tactics being used by @Potus.

@Potus will act as if he is considering the advice of rats like Cipollone to gain intel on the plans of the deep state, and to appear weak when he is actually in the driver's seat. Don't think for one second @Potus does not know Cipollone's true intentions

Mr. Byrne said he believes @realDonaldTrump is too nice and that's why he allows people like the White House General Counsel to continue to advise him. I disagree. @Potus is a genius. He knows exactly what he is doing. He holds all the cards. The military is running this operation behind the scenes. I truly believe @potus knows he already has this win in the bag and he's simply running down the clock and continuing to let the deep state expose themselves and tie the noose tighter. Yes, @Potus is a nice man and very generous, but our enemies our about to experience a side of @realDonaldTrump that they've heard about, but have never been the object of.

"If you know the enemy and know yourself, you need not fear the result of a hundred battles. If you know yourself but not the enemy, for every victory gained you will also suffer a defeat. If you know neither the enemy nor yourself, you will succumb in every battle.”

"Engage people with what they expect; it is what they are able to discern and confirms their projections. It settles them into predictable patterns of response, occupying their minds while you wait for the extraordinary moment — that which they cannot anticipate.”

you are watching Sun Tzu warfare at its finest.
