The image shows a screenshot of the Twemex application interface. On the left, there is a 'CONTEXTUAL SIDEBAR' with the heading 'See the big picture'. Below this, it states: 'Twemex replaces the distracting Twitter sidebar and surfaces insightful tweets, in context:'. The sidebar contains four sections: 'Highlights' (with a star icon), 'On This Day' (with a calendar icon), 'Our Conversations' (with a speech bubble icon), and 'Recent Hits' (with a star icon). Each section has a brief description of its function. On the right, a tweet feed is visible, showing tweets from 'Geoffrey LIT'. The top tweet is from Nov 12, 2020, about a new bookshelf. The second tweet is from May 8, 2020, about the history of Applescript, featuring a code snippet and a reference to 'Figure 5. Illustration of dialects.' The bottom tweet is from Dec 22, 2020. The interface is clean and modern, with a blue background for the sidebar and a white background for the tweet feed.
