

Twitter Thread by James Gunn

James Gunn

@JamesGunn

People see what Trump is doing to the country. They see how much worse our country is doing than other countries dealing with Covid. They see the violence on both the right and the left that is exacerbated by Trump's stoking of the divide.

What do you thinking is the biggest reason more Texans are voting? A specific issue or what?

— TheRealDubT (@DubT4Real) November 1, 2020

They see how Trump lauds White Supremacists. They see how he caters to the super wealthy. They saw how he was revealed not only to not be a billionaire as he claimed, but to be millions of dollars in debt. He lies about everything. He's not under audit. He never built a wall.

They see how he's a desperate wuss, constantly attacking anyone who affronts his vanity - he just isn't man enough to take criticism. He sucks up to dictators across the globe because he wants to be one - but he's not smart enough.

They see how he goes on about Biden's mental capacity but he can't say the word Yosemite and shows massive signs of dementia and degeneration. America is on to his game of accusing his opponent of whatever his flaw is.

He made fun of Biden's son for being a recovering drug addict - something almost all of us, Democrat or Republican, have in our lives and love.

He was impeached and the GOP never even took witnesses because they knew how damning their testimonies would be. He can never admit making any mistake ever - and this is never true of competent leaders, who balance their wisdom and intelligence with humility.

They see him bray about the stock market when hundreds of thousands of Americans are dying and they know the stock market is no longer an adequate representation of the economic well-being of basic Americans.

Any time anything good happens, he takes credit. Any time anything bad happens, he blames someone else. Most Americans know what a gross quality this is for a human being to have, and an even worse one for a leader.

He doesn't attend briefings. According to Fauci, he hasn't been to a task force meeting in months. He doesn't read. He golfs more than any other President ever - twice as much as Obama, who he was constantly yelling at for golfing too much. He watches way too much TV.

His campaign is so in thrall to his ego, they spend inordinate amounts of money on TV in Washington DC, almost 100% democrat. So they're fleecing millions from his followers to stop Trump from having a hissy fit, not to further the campaign.

He never divested himself of his business interests, something any President should do. He and his family are no longer allowed to operate a charity because they were busted ripping off kids with cancer and spending the money on themselves.

Trump likes to pretend his brand is synonymous with winning. But his real brand is losing - from Trump Steaks to Trump University to Trump Casinos to Trump's America, everything he's touched has not only been a failure but a catastrophic failure.

His Christianity is fake. He doesn't go to church. He can't recite a single phrase from the Bible. He lies about Christ.

He has been accused by over 25 women of sexual abuse. Some have accused him of violent rape. In his rape trial just last month his lawyers fought to exclude his DNA. That is not what innocent people do.

His own wife accused him of rape until they settled in court. He's a racist going back to his days of not allowing black people to live in his apartment buildings and taking out full page ads in favor of executing the (innocent) Central Park Five.

He's anti-science. He makes fun of Biden for wearing a mask and listening to doctors. He thinks he knows more than the 99% of climate change scientists who say climate change is real and adversely affected by human behavior.

He thinks you can bomb a tsunami, windmills cause cancer, and bleach kills coronavirus. He ranted for months about a Covid cure that he himself didn't take when he got Covid. He's an idiot.

Americans see that the Trump campaign, family, and White House are ridden with Covid whereas the Biden family and campaign have been hunky dory. I mean, come on, who do you really think they're gonna trust to deal with this epidemic?

In the end, Trump won the electoral (but not the popular) vote last election because people hated Hillary. Today he is the most hated President in modern history. Also, his hair is so fucking stupid, how can his judgment on anything be trusted?

This is all off the top of my head as I'm on a plane. Sorry for any typos. Vote Blue like your life depends on it, because it just might.