2 candlestick pattern

Indicates strong move either up or down

Up move is called Bullish Kicker
Down move is called Berish Kicker

1st candle follows the prior trend but on the 2nd day the price opens & closes outside gap

The gap indicates strong players either bulls or bears

An Events either company/industry specific forms this pattern

Bullish Kicker :
Psychology behind the pattern is that after a turf dominated by bears it got snatched by bulls after positive news on the security

Bearish Kicker :
Psychology behind the pattern is that after a turf dominated by bulls it got snatched by bears after negative news on the security

As a thumb rule "Before taking any trade one should always look at important Support & Resistance levels and also at Fibonacci levels to increase probability" of success
