Many people ask me about Relative Strength (RS) line on my chart, and its utility. So, finally I've published a script on TradingView which lets you add this indicator to your chart!

Read full thread for steps

Head to the indicators tab on top of your TradingView chart and search for the indicator name or my id -

You'll find my indicator there.

Step #2

Finally, we have the RS line indicator on the bottom of the chart with blue dots denoting new highs in RS!

By default, blue dots show new 250 days high in RS (~1 year high)

But you can change the indicator period, colors, symbols by heading to the settings tab of the indicator.

You can check the full documentation of the script with complete user settings & usage details on https://t.co/3q9UOn5GF7

Use it in your day-to-day trading & let me know your experience :)

Please share for maximum traders' benefit!
