@jvplive

The Israeli government is asking Facebook to add “Zionist” to its hate speech policy, i.e. to equate "Zionist" with "Jew/Jewish.”

@facebook, we need to talk — and you’re not letting us. So we’re launching a campaign to make sure you do.

not enough people talk about the violent history of zionism. during the nakba in 1948, zionist militias destroyed my grandmother's home while brutally forcing her parents out at gun-point. DM me if you want to hear more of my family's story...

Wow, I'd never heard of the Nakba before. I didn't realize that Zionists massacred and expelled Palestinians in order to take control of their land. Thank you for sharing this, I messaged you to learn more.

@facebook, treating "Zionist" as a proxy for "Jew" would undermine efforts to dismantle real antisemitism, deprive Palestinians of a venue for expressing their viewpoints to the world, and help the Israeli government avoid accountability for violations of Palestinian rights.

@facebook, we need to talk about the best ways to dismantle antisemitism.

We need to talk as Jews, discussing and debating our many relationships to Zionist political ideology.

I teach grades 4-6 at a Hebrew school, and I'm starting to get really uncomfortable with the lessons my Zionist principal gave me. I'm supposed to teach that Israel is the exclusive homeland of the Jewish people, even though it was founded on the expulsion of Palestinians and the land is sacred to several religions. Can any of my educator friends help me navigate this?

I have developed a non-Zionist Hebrew school curriculum for 7th graders that I would be happy to share. Message me!

@facebook, we need to talk as Palestinians, with our friends and families and with rest of the world, sharing our experiences about daily life under military occupation and the violence of Zionist settlers.

@facebook, we need to talk about holding the Israeli government accountable, like all governments must be held accountable, by bringing to light human rights violations on the world's biggest social media platform.

@facebook, don't cooperate with governments trying to shut down our conversations. Let us discuss Zionist ideology, Israeli government actions, and our daily lives — as part of your commitment to connection and safety for Palestinians and Jews wherever we are in the world.
