

Twitter Thread by The Herald Zimbabwe

The Herald Zimbabwe

@HeraldZimbabwe

President Mnangagwa has arrived at the PPC plant in Msasa industrial area, Harare, where he will tour the facility. The President is being accompanied on the tour by VP Kembo Mohadi and several Cabinet Ministers.

Official proceedings have started with the PPC board member Stanford Moyo giving his welcome remarks.

PPC managing director Mr Kelibone Masiyane says the company is committed to the Zimbabwean market since it started production 107 years ago.

Says the company welcomes Government efforts to create an enabling environment. He says the company is playing a big role in the country's infrastructure development especially road construction and rehabilitation.

He ends his remarks and invites Industry and Commerce Minister Sekai Nzenza to the podium.

President Mnangagwa takes to the podium, to give his address.

He says the National Development Strategy 1 prioritizes infrastructure development which provides opportunities for the company.

He commends the company's environmentally friendly production processes. He challenges the company to adopt latest production methods to improve quality and competitiveness.

President Mnangagwa says Government and the private sector should work together for the development of the country. He urges the company to engage institutions of higher learning in development of new products.

He thanks the company for investing in the country and said Government would work to ensure the operating environment remains conducive.

President Mnangagwa concludes his speech.